The great want of this age is men. Men who are not for sale. Men who are honest, sound from center to circumfer ence, true to the heart's core. Men who will condemn wrong in friend or foe, in themselves as well as others. Men whose consciences are as steady as the needle to the pole. Men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels. Men who can tell the truth, and look the world and devil right in the eye Men that neither brag nor run. Men that neither flag nor flinch. Men who can have courage without shouting to it. Or a Reversionary Dividend of 100 per cent, by Men in whom the courage of everlasting life runs still, deep and strong. Men too large for sectarian bonds. Men who do not cry, nor cause their voices to be heard on the streets, but who will not fail, nor ROLLINS & CHANDLER, Boston, General Ag't be discouraged, till judgement be set in the earth. Men who know their message and tell it. Men who know their places and fill them. Men who know their own business. Men who will not lie. Men dison, Chittenden, Grand Isle, Franklin, La moille, and Washington Counties. who are not too lazy to work, nor too proud to be poor. Men who are willing to eat what they have earned, and wear what they have paid for.

Light Literature.

THERE is a class of readers who make NEW SPRING GOODS. it a special business to con every new novel that "comes out" (that very properly expresses their origin -as with the Topsies who were not born but "growed" to the end that they may get together and rehearse the vapid and stale flights of modern flash writers; and if, by accident, some person who devotes his time to dely ing in mines of rich and useful learning stray into their presence, he is intolerable bored by the questions, "Have you read 'Jack the Giant Killer ?' or 'Mother Goose's Melodies ?"' or something equaly profound. Of course the stranger is con pelled to say "No" to every one of a long series of like questions, slightly indignant that he should be suspected of being 'accomplished' in this kind of 'literature;' and every answer elicits the ejaculation of surprise, "Why !" A man who can stand this inquisition without losing his temper, or getting entirely disgusted with those whose minds are so shallow, that a long-drawn, sickish 'love story' can satisfy their deepest longing, and without telling them all about it right on the spot, is a paragon of Christian forbearance, and should have a leather medal bung to his neck with a life-sized calf stamped upon it.
